I'm a UX/UI designer with an instinct for designing across cultural contexts, shaped by growing up across three continents and six years of professional tennis. The sport taught me discipline and how to perform as part of a team, qualities that still shape how I work. What draws me to interaction design is the small decisions most people never notice, but everyone feels.

EXPERIENCE

UX/UI Designer

FEB 2026 – NOW

Aeris Environmental · Contract · Sydney (Hybrid)

UX/UI consultant to AerisTech. Designed wireframes and a custom component library for the AerisView MVP dashboard in ThingsBoard, and restructured the Portfolio interface to improve hierarchy, consistency, and flow. Established workflow documentation to support the team as the product scales.

Private Tennis Coach

JUL 2022 – NOW

Self-employed · Sydney

Founded and run a private coaching practice, handling client relationships, pricing, scheduling, and curriculum design end-to-end. Three years building a small business while translating elite-level athletic experience into accessible, structured coaching.

Professional Tennis Player

2017 – 2023

Rafa Nadal Academy (Mallorca) → NCAA, Drury University (Missouri)

Six years competing at the elite level: first at one of the world's leading tennis academies, then on a full NCAA scholarship alongside my degree. Sharpened pattern recognition and composure under pressure, and developed cross-cultural collaboration through living and competing in three countries.

IT Help Desk Assistant

JAN – JUN 2022

Drury University · Part-time · Missouri, USA

Supported IT operations and helped roll out educational technology for faculty and students, streamlining day-to-day workflows for the teams I worked with.
